Dear Sir,
Your paper of the 12th contained ar
editorial that is unfair to the fire bri editorial that is unfair to the fire bri-gade. You cannot exp et a fireman just becasue he is a fireman to know when there is a fire by inuttion. There was no alarm sounded and there is no meads whereby one could be sounded, and it seems very unfair to the brigade to call them down when they knew nothing about the fire and nothing was done to let them know.

If the guarantia afford an alarm they had better sell the engines and buy the alarm as a bunch of men at the start of a blazer are more useful than a dosen engines when the buildings are burnt down.

It might not be amiss to state a few men left interested enough in the brimatics for the benefit of the public about the brigade. Last Oct. a committee of freemen met and drew up a set of bylaxe to govern the brigade and as they were handed to the chairman of last years Fire Water and Light committee. Once since then said chairman asked our chief on an hour's notice to come down to his office in the afternoon to meet that committee and go over the bylays. It was in the afternoon to meet that committee and go over the bylays. It was in the afternoon to a busy day and our chief could
